PRESS RELEASE

Ice Skating Camp

Miami Beach, FL - The City of Miami Beach Parks and Recreation Department offered a variety of specialty camps over the summer of 2006, which allowed children to explore and expand their interest in many of their favorite hobbies. Among the many camps offered was Ice Skating Camp at the Scott Rakow Youth Center.

Children registered in the camp learned the essentials of figure skating and how to display their talents in front of an audience. Skaters were placed in different groups and given a chance to pick their own music in order to compose their own choreography with the help of their coaches. Children also enjoyed numerous activities off the ice, such as; arts & crafts, bowling, movies, stretch classes, and even indoor volley ball.

"I love Ice skating camp, that's why I come back every year," said camper Sara Nusbaum. "I get to ice skate, make new friends, and do a whole bunch of cool stuff at the youth center." Although summer camp has come to an end, the Scott Rakow Youth Center continues to offer group skating lesson, private lessons, adult open hockey and open sessions to the public throughout the year.
